

B1
cont

30. A method of claim 28, wherein the anti-progestin is administered continuously.

31. A method of claim 29, wherein progestin is not administered and hormone replacement therapy is effected.

32. A method of claim 30, wherein progestin is not administered and hormone replacement therapy is effected.

33. A method of claim 29, wherein progestin is administered and hormone replacement therapy is effected.

34. A method of claim 29, wherein progestin is administered and fertility control is effected.

35. A method of achieving fertility control in a woman comprising administering to a woman in need thereof an effective amount of progestin and an amount of antiprogestin effective to ameliorate uterine bleeding control problems.

36. A method of claim 35, wherein the antiprogestin is administered periodically.

37. A method of claim 31, wherein the estrogen is administered continuously.

38. A method of claim 32, wherein the estrogen is administered continuously.

39. A method of claim 33, wherein the estrogen and the progestin are administered continuously.